- K. Severe weather conditions, traffic conditions, heavy rain and unforeseen events may affect EHA response times and limit availability of appropriate EHA Service Providers in the area at the time. During such periods, RACV will arrange assistance as quickly as practicable.

General Conditions and Limitation of Liability

General conditions

- A. RACV or an EHA Service Provider may refuse to provide any EHA Service where in the reasonable opinion of RACV or the EHA Service Provider, the Permitted Person or any person at the Nominated Property is acting or behaving in a manner that is inappropriate, improper, hostile, threatening, abusive or dangerous.
- B. RACV reserves the right to refuse applications for EHA Subscription or EHA Pay per Emergency or extension or renewal of the EHA Subscription.
- C. RACV may amend, vary or withdraw any aspect of the EHA Services at any time and its maximum liability to each EHA Subscriber in respect of same will be the refund of the unused portion (pro-rata) of the Subscription Fee paid by the EHA Subscriber.
- D. Where there is ambiguity, RACV is only liable to provide or pay for the Services to the extent clearly and expressly provided for in these Terms and Conditions.
- E. RACV does not guarantee that EHA will entitle the EHA User to a level of service that matches or surpasses any other product or service provided by any other person.
- F. The method of delivery of Services will be at the sole discretion of RACV, including without limitation the EHA Service Provider and regarding the type or method of the EHA Services.

Limitation of Liability

- G. Any advice provided as part of the Services is provided in good faith and with all reasonable care, based on assumptions and information provided by the Permitted Persons. To the extent permitted under Australian Consumer Law, RACV is under no obligation to update the information provided and is not responsible for and disclaims all liability relating to use of this information.
- H. If, notwithstanding the above, RACV is found to be liable to the EHA User and/or any other person in connection with any advice given to the Permitted Persons in the course of or in connection with the EHA Services, RACV's liability is limited to a sum not exceeding $10,000 (which shall include legal costs) in respect of the aggregate of all claims during any consecutive period of 12 months.
- I. RACV may accept liability for damage to a Nominated Property directly caused by the provision of the EHA Services to it where:

- a. notice of that damage is given to RACV within 7 days of the EHA Services being provided; and
 - b. RACV is given an opportunity to inspect the home or property before further repairs are carried out and considers that the damage was directly caused by negligence on the part of RACV in providing the service.
- J. Subject to the previous paragraph (part 7, section i), the EHA User acknowledges that the Services are intended to be emergency repairs and may be temporary or make safe in nature. As such, RACV does not represent that any Nominated Property (or part thereof) to which it provides Service will be, or will remain for any period of time, in working order. Where repairs are temporary or make safe only, RACV will not be liable to any person (whether in tort, contract or otherwise) in connection with damage, accidents or injuries that may occur following EHA Services as a result of the EHA User not taking appropriate action to implement permanent repairs to the Nominated Property.
- K. If, notwithstanding the above, RACV is found to be liable to the EHA User and/or any other person in connection with EHA Services provided to a Nominated Property, including, without limitation, in connection with damage, accidents or injuries that may occur following a call out and whether in tort, contract or otherwise, RACV's liability is limited to a sum not exceeding $10,000 (which shall include legal costs) in respect of the aggregate of all claims during any consecutive period of 12 months.
- L. RACV accepts no liability for performing repairs or Make Safe Procedures which would void a warranty, cause the EHA User to breach a contractual obligation or prejudice or adversely affect an existing or subsequent insurance claim or legal action involving the EHA User. It is the responsibility of the Permitted Person to advise the EHA Service Provider not to repair an item where doing so may void a warranty or cause the EHA User to breach a contractual obligation.
- M. RACV will not be liable or in default for any failure or delay in providing EHA Services, either in whole or in part, where failure or delay arises directly or indirectly out of causes beyond the reasonable control of RACV including, without limitation: Major Disasters or Events, adverse weather conditions, unavailability of materials, part, qualified personnel, equipment, fuel or the like; failures in telecommunications, satellite and global positioning systems (including loss of coverage in any or all of the Service areas); and otherwise where the relevant Service is not reasonably available.
- N. To the extent permitted by law, RACV will not be liable to any person for any indirect, special or consequential loss or damage in connection with the EHA Services, whether in contract, tort (including negligence), statute or otherwise.
- O. Nothing in these Terms and Conditions excludes any liability implied or imposed by any laws (including the Australian Consumer Law) that cannot be lawfully excluded or limited. Where RACV can limit our liability under the Australian Consumer Law, RACV limits such liability to the following (at RACV's option): in the case of goods, the replacement of the goods or the supply of equivalent goods, the repair of goods, the payment of the cost of replacing the goods or of acquiring equivalent goods; or in the case of services, the supplying of the services again, or the payment of the cost of having the services supplied again.

Transfer, Cancellation and Refunds

- A. An EHA Subscription cannot be transferred or assigned by the EHA Subscriber to any other person.
- B. The EHA Subscriber may cancel their EHA Subscription at any time by notifying RACV by telephone, mail or at any RACV Store.
- C. RACV may cancel the EHA Subscriber's subscription to EHA immediately and without penalty where, in the reasonable opinion of RACV, the EHA Subscriber has:
 - a. materially breached these Terms and Conditions and the breach has not been or cannot be remedied; or
 - b. acted in a manner that is inappropriate, improper, hostile, threatening, abusive or dangerous.
- D. Except as expressly set out in these Terms and Conditions, the EHA Subscriber is not entitled to a refund of any part of the Subscription Fee upon cancellation of their subscription.
- E. Subscription Fees may be refunded (in whole or in part) prior to the end of the subscription period in the following circumstances:
 - a. where the EHA Service is no longer able to be provided at the Nominated Property (due to limited trade coverage in the area or similar circumstances); or
 - b. an EHA Subscriber dies; or
 - c. an EHA Subscriber's Nominated Property is destroyed as the result of a Major Disaster or Event and declared a total loss; or

- d. during the current Subscription Year, the EHA Subscriber sells the Nominated Property and provides satisfactory evidence of the sale (e.g. copy of contract of sale).
- F. Refunds can only be offered under part 8, section E when no Service Call Outs have been made in the relevant Subscription Year. However, if the amount we need to refund is less than $5, then we will donate it to charity.
- G. The EHA Subscriber has 21 days from the date of purchasing an EHA Subscription to cancel and will be entitled to a full refund of any Subscription Fee paid provided no Service Call Outs have been made in that time.
- H. Refunds may be granted in other extraordinary circumstances (at RACV's discretion).

Fair Use Policy

- A. It is important to RACV that all EHA Users are able to access the EHA Services and benefits and our expectation is that EHA Users will maintain their Nominated Property in good order. Therefore, RACV reserves the right to limit or refuse to provide Services to an EHA User where, in the reasonable opinion of RACV, the EHA User's use of the Services is excessive, unreasonable or not reasonably required by EHA User in the circumstances.
- B. Circumstances that may constitute a breach include multiple Service Call Outs for the same reason (e.g. a blocked toilet, pipe or drain, unstable pilot light in heating systems). An EHA Subscriber is expected to take reasonable steps to resolve the underlying issue causing the fault and an EHA Pay per Emergency Customer acknowledges that they will be charged a Pay per Emergency Fee for each Service Call Out (regardless of whether the same underlying issue causes the fault).
- C. Without limiting the circumstances in which RACV may apply this fair use policy, RACV will apply this policy if any use of the Services or benefits by an EHA User is considered to be fraudulent or adversely affects the provision of the Services to other EHA Users.

Consent to Photograph or Film Services

- A. You agree that EHA Service Providers may take photo or film of existing damage and the EHA Service provided during a Service Call Out. These photographs and videos are a requirement of the EHA Service Provider

RACV may share non- personal aggregate, or summary, information with partners or other third parties (this is a customary online practice). For example, we might provide a count of users from a particular area or utilise data in an anonymous manner to develop and improve other products. RACV will always ensure that any Personal Information has been removed before aggregate information is provided to third parties or partners.
- C. RACV's use of any Personal Information will at all times be governed by the RACV Privacy Charter, a copy of which can be found at www.racv.com.au/privacy
