How we work out your premium

Your insurance premium generally reflects the likelihood of a claim being made on your policy in the future. There are a number of factors we take into account when determining your premium. We calculate your premium by combining and considering the following:

- ▶ Pricing factors
- ▶ Discounts
- ▶ Choice of excess, and
- ▶ Government charges.

Other commercial factors affect the premium you pay, including costs associated with operating our business. Each time you renew your insurance your premium is likely to change, even if your personal circumstances have not changed. This is because the premium you pay is calculated based on a number of factors including our updated modelling, your circumstances and wider insurance trends.

Pricing Factors

The premium you pay for your insurance reflects the likelihood of you making a claim together with the potential value of any claim. So, if you have a lower chance of making a claim then you will generally pay a lower premium compared to someone who has a higher chance of making a claim.

Our experience shows there are a number of factors that are a good indicator of the possibility of a claim being made. We call these pricing factors.

Some pricing factors are more significant than others, and the impact may vary according to your circumstances. For vintage, veteran and classic vehicle Insurance policies, pricing factors that may be taken into account in determining your premium include a combination of some or all of the following:

- ▶ the sum insured you have chosen
- ▶ any excesses or special conditions that apply
- ▶ age, make and model of your vehicle
- ▶ where your vehicle is kept
- ▶ how frequently you use your vehicle
- ▶ the type of registration on your vehicle
- ▶ your previous year's premium if your policy is a renewal, and
- ▶ features including age, driving experience and claims history of the owners and drivers of your vehicle.

This is not an exhaustive list of our pricing factors.

We collect information in relation to these pricing factors from you and other sources and we use our data, models, and experience to assess how important each pricing factor is for your policy. At any time we may change the relative importance of any of the pricing factors or how they combine to affect your premium, and we may add to or remove pricing factors from the calculation as we see fit.

We also consider your previous premium and may take steps to limit the change in your premium at renewal.

Discounts

Your policy may be eligible for the following discounts:

- ▶ Multi-Policy Discount
- ▶ Years of Membership Benefit.

We calculate the discounts that apply to your policy before we tell you what your premium will be. Please see the 'Discounts' section of this guide on page 3 for further details.

Excess

An excess is an amount you pay when you lodge a claim. The amount and types of excess(es) payable are shown on your current Certificate of Insurance. You may have to pay more than one type of excess depending on your circumstances.

There are three types of excess(es):

- ▶ Basic
- ▶ Age
- ▶ Special.

Basic excess

If you make any type of claim you must pay the basic excess that applies to your policy. The basic excess for a VVC Vehicle Insurance policy is $300, however, you may be able to choose a different basic excess – see 'Choice of excess' below.

Choice of excess

You can choose a different basic excess amount to the one we determine when you first take out a policy or when you renew your policy. During your policy period, you can also choose to increase your basic excess.

If you choose a higher basic excess, you can reduce your premium and if you choose a lower basic excess you will pay an additional premium.

You can choose one of the following amounts as your basic excess:

Basic excess levels
$0
$300
$500
$750
$1,000
$1,500
$2,000

Special excess

We may decide to apply a special excess to an individual owner or driver, or in relation to a specific incident, taking into account such factors as the type of vehicle and owner or driver incident, claims or traffic offence history.

The amount of the special excess will be shown on your current Certificate of Insurance and is generally double your basic excess.

A special excess is payable in addition to your basic or age excess where applicable.

You cannot pay an additional premium to remove a special excess.

Age excess

This excess is paid in addition to any basic excess and applies to:

- ▶ any driver under 25 years of age, but does not apply to:
- ▶ a learner driver who was accompanied by a fully licensed driver aged 25 years of age or more.

The following explains what age excess may apply at the time of a claim:

If you have named an under 25 year old as a driver on your policy the age excess is $300.

If the driver of your vehicle is under 25 years of age and you have not named an under 25 year old driver on your policy the age excess will be $1,600.

You cannot pay an additional premium to remove an age excess.

When an excess does not apply

There are a number of instances in which you will not be required to pay an excess when we pay your claim:

If you have chosen a higher basic excess to reduce your premium this is then applied. If you have chosen to lower or remove your basic excess we will add the additional premium.

Step 3

We then work out any Multi-Policy Discount that you may be eligible for and apply this to the amount from Step 2.

Step 4

We apply any Years of Membership Benefit you may be eligible for to the amount in Step 3.

Step 5

We then add applicable government charges to work out the premium you need to pay.
