Activity 1: Who am I?

Match the clues with the correct sign

1. I am to be followed by vehicles. I am red and white. I am found at the end of a road or street. I am an octagon. Who am I?

2. I am a triangle. I am red, white and black. I have two words. I ask vehicles not to stop but to let other vehicles go first. Who am I?

3. I am orange and black. I am a warning to cars. I am a flag on two sticks. I am usually seen near schools. Who am I?

4. I am a rectangle. I have a red circle. I am white and black with a number on it. I tell cars what speed they are allowed to travel. Who am I?

5. I am a triangle. I have a series of arrows in the shape of a circle. I have no words. I am a sign for vehicles to follow. Who am I?

Activity 2: Draw your own road sign

Draw your own road sign to help children cross the road.

- What shape will your sign be – a circle, square, rectangle or a triangle?
- What colours will your sign use?
- Will your sign have words, pictures or both?
- Think carefully about the reasons for your choices.
