Combine a stay with a Club event

JOHN SLATTERY Club & Membership Committee Chairman

What a joy it has been to watch the Tokyo Games, with superstars such as swimmer Emma McKeon claiming gold for Australia. Swimming is a great sport year-round, and our pools are warm enough to encourage you to take a dip (page 12). In fact, there are myriad reasons to come to the Club, as we progressively reopen inline with Victorian Government restrictions. As well as the opening of Riddell's Green (see Rob's message below) we have whisky events (page 10), and talks by two Vietnam veterans. In September, there are Father's Day lunches, an INXS tribute band, and the AFL Grand Final lunch (page 4). Why not consider combining a Club event with a stay at the Club (page 16)? Another way to break up the routine is to use City Club's Shared Work Space (page 14). For the latest information about Club events, visit racv.com.au/club-whats-on

ROB EVERETT RACV Club General Manager

We are excited to announce that the newly renovated sports bar, Riddell's Green, at Healesville Country Club & Resort, is scheduled to open in mid-August (page 8). Located on Level 1, this new alfresco-style sports bar is ideal for post-golf drinks or a casual meal. When dining at Riddell's Green, Club Members will receive a 15% discount off the final bill if they charge it back to their Club Membership card. If you visit Healesville Country Club & Resort from mid-August, Terrace Bistro will be closed to make way for another new dining experience, which will open in November (page 6). During this time, Members can enjoy a meal in Riddell's Green or dine in their room via the in-room dining menu. We apologise for any inconvenience, disruptions, or noise caused by the maintenance work. For more information, please visit racv.com.au/clubimprovements-healesville.

As we emerge from Victoria's fifth lockdown, I thank all our Members for their patience and support. We ask that Members visit the RACV Club bookings page for the latest information about operating hours of facilities at both properties. Please understand that there may be further changes in operating times over the coming weeks, in keeping with Victorian Government requirements. Once again, I appreciate your ongoing understanding and support of our staff as we reopen, and we look forward to welcoming you back to the Club in August.

After the completion of Riddell's Green, the transformation of Terrace Bistro will begin at Healesville Country Club & Resort

This artist's impression (above) by Technē Architecture + Interior Design offers a preview of the new-look dining venue at Healesville Country Club & Resort. The construction of the Level 2 space is set to begin in mid-August, shortly after the completion of Riddell's Green on Level 1 (see page 8).

Formerly known as Blue Tree Grill and Terrace Bistro, the space will be transformed into one large dining space, with an intimate dining facility at the south end, which Club Members will be able to book for their next special occasion.

Healesville Country Club & Resort Manager Josh O'Brien says the name of the new restaurant, which will pay homage to the region's indigenous flora, will be revealed in Highlights next month.

The materials and colours incorporated into the redesign also reflect the local environment and will include beautiful timbers and terrazzo tabletops.

The illustration above shows how the restaurant will become a multi-faceted space for different dining experiences. There will also be a new cocktail bar and outdoor space (not illustrated).

Technē Architecture + Interior Design director Steve McKeag says Club Members will enjoy different dining and leisure experiences on the two levels. "The lower ground experience is more active and casual, with golf-course views and an earthy palette inspired by the surrounding wine regions," Steve says.

"The restaurant and bar areas on Level 2 will feature more intimate settings, amongst a textural palette, with nature-inspired fixtures and upholsteries, and luxurious banquette servings, plus the terrace outside."

Josh says Club Members will be able to dine in the newly opened Riddell's Green when the Level 2 area is closed.

PLANNING YOUR VISIT

There may be some changes in operating times and hours over the coming weeks, as we again reopen both properties, in line with Victorian Government restrictions. You'll find the latest information on the RACV Club bookings page.

Masks: When you visit our Club properties, please ensure you sign in via the mandatory QR code. We remind you that a mask must be worn at all times, while indoors and outdoors, except while dining and drinking or during high-impact exercise.

Reservations: We require Members to make bookings for all activities at our Club properties prior to arrival to ensure access to facilities with limited capacity.

Safety: RACV Club remains committed to ensuring the safety of Members, guests and staff. We continue to ask that if you have any symptoms of COVID-19 that you don't visit RACV Club. Stay up to date with the latest information via the RACV Club website.

Hygiene promise: Our high health and hygiene standards form part of our Hygiene Promise, including having Hygiene Officers at each property, installation of UV filters in the air-conditioning system, and new outdoor dining facilities at both properties.

SETTING THE SCENE

The opening of Healesville's new sports bar is a highly anticipated event

Club Members Kenneth and Joyce Emslie are looking forward to the opening of Riddell's Green, the new sports bar at Healesville Country Club and Resort. They both play golf, and a drink or meal afterwards is part of the ritual.

"I play in the Ladies' Social Golf Group on a Wednesday, and we have 26 to 30 ladies playing. We always come back and have a raffle and a few drinks and lunch in the sports bar," Joyce says. "It's lovely, especially when it's nice weather and you can sit outside."

She's looking forward to utilising Riddell's Green's alfresco area (artistic impression above right), which will be light and airy, with lots of plants, and a wood fire to keep the space warm in winter.

"My husband plays almost every day, if he can and sometimes I come up and meet for lunch," she says. "We used to do the Friday night pizza with our grandkids, so we are looking forward to continuing that sort of thing in the new sports bar."

Riddell's Green will have an American diner-style menu that includes ribs, steaks, burgers and salads. The up-market family-friendly vibe will make it a great place for get-togethers with friends, family and other Club Members.

Kenneth says he enjoys the chance to have a drink and snack with his golf buddies after a game.

"We talk about the competition we've just played and give each other a bit of a hard time about any bad shots. Nothing too serious, it's a bit of fun, really," he says.

They say it's easy to get sucked into watching the latest sports news or international sporting events on the big-screen TV and Riddell's Green will maintain that sports bar tradition. "Whether it's footy or golf, or whatever is on at the time, your eyes do gravitate towards the TV," Joyce says.

DINING AT RIDDELL'S GREEN

When dining at Riddell's Green, Club Members get a 15% discount off the final bill when they charge it back to their Club Membership card.

They both like playing on the Michael Clayton-designed 18-hole course, which includes a network of paved pathways that make it easier to drive the golf carts around in winter.

Joyce says the Ladies' Social Golf Club offers the chance to meet and play with different people each week. The members book in online. Groups of two, three or four players are organised on the day.

"We get there about 8.30am, and we mix the group up, so you're not playing with the same people all the time," she says.

"The Ladies' Social Golf Group is a great group to belong to, and we are friendly."

They also appreciate the Club staff who work in the Golf Pro Shop and sports bar, saying they are always welcoming and accommodating.

Healesville Country Club & Resort Manager Josh O'Brien says Riddell's Green is on track to be completed by the end of August. It will be open in time for the AFL Grand Final and the Spring Racing Carnival.

GO WITH THE GRAIN

Try something new and learn about the art of distilling at a Club whisky event

Whether you're a scotch expert or yet to develop a palate for a wee dram, it's important to know the history behind the alternate spellings and origins of the names.

- Whisky is from Scotland, and whiskey is from Ireland, and it's believed the Americans kept the "e" in the word because of the large number of Irish immigrants in the 19th century.
- A whisky is only called scotch (which is capitalised when paired with the word whisky) when it is entirely produced and bottled in Scotland.
- As for American whiskey, the origins of bourbon are hazy, though Kentucky is considered the epicentre. This style of whisky must have at least 51 per cent corn mash in its production.

City Club whisky expert Freya Rock says cool climates are best for whisky production, and Tasmania and Victoria have some amazing distilleries. She says City Club's whisky events give Members a chance to learn about Australia's vibrant whisky scene.

"The traditionalists mainly drink scotch, and it has to be single malt, but Australia is doing innovative things with whisky," she says.

The Starward whisky night will showcase the distillery that is based in Port Melbourne and include a tasting session and paired dishes. "Starward is a young, creative distillery," Freya says. "They are moving away from peaty whiskies and creating different flavour profiles, like banana bread, caramalised figs and chocolate ganache."

In September, shortly after Father's Day (hint, hint), there is the Whisky Masterclass with Tasmania's Killara Distillery and a premium whisky dinner with Bill Lark, from Tasmania's Lark Distillery.

Freya says the whisky events are suitable for all Members, including single-malt connoisseurs and whisky novices.

"Most people are aware of the range of flavours when it comes to wine but don't realise it's the same for whiskies," she says. "Members can come into the Wine Bar, or to an event, and work out what whisky they like; everyone has their own favourites."

Starward Whisky Night

Meet Starward Ambassador Matty Follent and enjoy whisky tastings with paired dishes.

There are two sessions to choose from:
Wed 25 Aug, 5.30-7.30pm and 7.30pm-9pm

Wine Bar, City Club, $145pp, includes a bottle of Starward Nova whisky to take home.

To book, call 9944 8888 or email clubevents@racv.com.au

WINE EVENTS AT HEALESVILLE

Exclusively for Club Members staying in-house, Restaurant Manager Franc Van Poelvoorde, above, will host a free wine tasting event, as part of the complimentary Aperitivo Hour, at Healesville Country Club & Resort, on the last Friday of each month. It's the perfect way to kick off a weekend stay at the country property.

"It's an opportunity for in-house Members to taste fine Yarra Valley wines and to also purchase the wines. The winery will take the order and deliver it to the Club the next day. So, that's a unique service for Club Members."

This month meet Steels Gate Wines' owner and vigneron Brad Atkins and learn more about his innovative Dixons Creek winery.

Fri 27 August, 5pm-6pm, Members' Lounge.
Available to in-house Club Members.

DID YOU KNOW?

The Wine Bar at City Club has whisky and spirit lockers for hire, giving Club Members access to rare and unique spirits. The spirit you buy is then served to you, when you so desire, anytime during the bar's opening hours. The lockers make a great Father's Day gift. Come to the Wine Bar and find out more.

MAKE A SPLASH

Inspired by our Olympic swimming team? Winter or summer, swimming is a winner, and you can warm up in the steam room, sauna or spa afterwards

Swimming has long been the backbone of our Olympic success, and it's inspiring to watch our athletes take on the best and bring home medals.

But you don't have to be an Olympian to reap the benefits of swimming. City Club personal trainer and swim coach Alex Piatrow says swimming is great for all ages because it's low impact and exercises the whole body.

"It is a full-body workout. Whether it's freestyle, breaststroke or butterfly, swimming helps build muscle strength and cardiovascular fitness.

"Even playing and walking in water works. You should do what feels good."

Although it's harder to be motivated during winter, there are a couple of enticing reasons to use the pools at City Club and Healesville Country Club & Resort.

"The Club's lap pools are warmer than most lap pools. They are set at 29.6°C. Most 25m and 50m lap pools are generally colder, at around 26°C.

"It doesn't sound like a lot, but that higher temperature can make a difference."

Alex says there's also the steam room, sauna and spa to help you warm up and relax at the end.

MENTAL HEALTH BOOST

Swimming can help release endorphins, which boosts your mood and alleviates stress. Like yoga, swimming can be used to relax and practice mindfulness.

"I think about things as I swim, and I find that's a mental release. You can enjoy the solitude," Alex says.

BURNING CALORIES

Swimming increases your metabolism and helps you burn calories. It's estimated that 30 minutes of steady swimming can burn between 200 and 350 calories.

"In colder weather, your body burns more calories to keep you warm, which is why you can feel exhausted when you get out of the pool." The key is to make sure you eat something healthy afterwards.

PERFECT FOR ALL AGES

Swimming is an activity for all ages. It's also great for pregnant women. A UK study, The Health and Wellbeing Benefits of Swimming, found swimmers lived longer.

"As you age, you can have problems with arthritis or osteoporosis, and swimming is a low-impact exercise that doesn't put too much load on the joints," Alex says. "You can gently exercise and still get benefits."

REHABILITATION

Swimming aids recovery by building muscle strength and improving your range of motion. A physiotherapist can give you exercises relevant to your injury.

"I used the pool a lot when I injured my back," Alex says. "There were specific strokes that I wasn't allowed to do, but there were many things I could do that helped."

ONE LAST POINT

"Always drink water," Alex says. "You sweat in the water and don't realise you're dehydrated, especially in the steam room, sauna or spa. I keep my drink bottle at the end of the lane and take a sip when I stop for a breather."

A PLACE TO TOUCH BASE

The Shared Work Space provides a base for those days when you need to be in the city for meetings - and you can use the other Club facilities while you're there

CLUB MEMBER
PAUL DOHERTY

Enterprise architect Paul Doherty has used co-working spaces in London, Bali, Sydney and Perth, and he counts the City Club's Shared Work Space in Melbourne as one of his favourites.

"It's really valuable for someone like me," he says. "Given the current climate with hybrid work, it gives me the viable option of having a place to work in the city, and the Bourke Street location with parking is great."

Paul says the Shared Work Space is well designed, with flexible spaces that fulfil different needs. "You can work in the open space and collaborate with other people. If you need privacy, the quiet phone booths work well," Paul says. "I also like the high ceilings and windows and the view of surrounding buildings."

The IT specialist runs his company, Wrive, primarily from home and regularly books meeting rooms on Level 2 at City Club to meet and collaborate with clients.

"We host workshops as well, every now and then, and the meeting rooms have whiteboards and all the facilities I need, which is beneficial. It's something you can't replicate at home," he says. "It also saves me investing in office space near the city that would be used only 30 to 40 per cent of the time. The Shared Work Space fills that gap, and I'm sure there are a lot of people in the same situation."

Paul makes good use of the other Club facilities when he's there: "When you combine the Shared Work Space with the Fitness Centre, restaurants, bars and everything else, it's a one-stop-shop for doing business."

He enjoys coming to the city and having structure around his routine and working week.

"Working from home, you can bleed hours; you can end up working 16 hours just because your computer is there," he says. "Having a space in the city gives you the opportunity to dress up, get out of the house and have lunch meetings."

The Club also works well from a family point of view. "When I'm doing the school run or picking up the kids from school, I can pop in and have a meal or use the Club as my base on those days as well.

"The Shared Work Space is really valuable to me. The cafe is handy and the staff are great."

Meeting of minds

Our meeting rooms are a popular and convenient part of your Club Membership.

If your membership includes access to the Shared Work Space on Level 1, you'll be familiar with the variety of spaces where you can work and collaborate with other professionals.

On Level 2 we have seven private meeting rooms that can hold two to 24 guests. These rooms are available for all Club Members to hire, regardless of your membership type.

It is advisable to book well in advance, as the meeting rooms are popular. They are available to book Monday to Friday, 9am-5pm. For details, contact Hostdesk@racv.com.au, 9944 8080 or book a meeting room online.

The Shared Work Space is available to Club Members as an optional package that can be added to your existing membership. For details, email clubmembership@racv.com.au or call 1300 501 501.

ESCAPE

ITALIAN LAKES

If you want to feel like you're in Italy, Kenneth Park's lecture on Italy's lake district will take you on a tour of beautiful lakeshore villages and alpine regions. There are five major lakes and each has its own particular character.

Kenneth Park lecture, 19 August, 2.30pm-3.30pm, City Club, $20pp, includes lecture, coffee & tea. More details at racv.com.au/club-whats-on

EAT, SLEEP, PLAY

Combine a stay at City Club with a Club event, and make the most of your Club Membership with fine food, city walks and new connections

Being a tourist in your own town is fun, and RACV Club makes it easy for you to have new experiences. Step back in time and learn about the development of East Melbourne, or enter the miniature world of dollhouses, with exhibits dating back to the 1880s. There are Club events organised for September and October, so you can plan and book ahead.

EAST MELBOURNE STROLL

Join Kenneth Park for his second tour of East Melbourne, and learn about the development of this enchanting inner-city suburb. View the diverse architectural styles that include grand houses dating back to the gold-rush era.

Tue 10 Aug, 10am-noon, $25, includes walk, coffee or tea.

MINIATURE WORLDS OF WONDER

At the Doll House: Miniature Worlds of Wonder Exhibition, curator Dr Annette Shiell will take Club Members on an exclusive tour and share insights into the intriguing world of dollhouses, including accessories, ephemera and virtual experiences.

Thu 12 Aug, or Tue 17 Aug, 10-11am, $25pp, includes entry & curator talk. Como House, South Yarra.

HIGH TEA WITH A ROYAL THEME

A trip to England might be on hold, but jeweller Adrian Dickens can take you to Buckingham Palace, via an illustrated lecture, to see the Queen's private diamond collection. Learn about the artistic and historical significance of the royal heirlooms while enjoying lunch and a glass of wine.

Tue 24 Aug, noon-2pm, City Club, $60pp, includes lecture, lunch and a glass of wine.

YARRA VALLEY EXPERIENCE

Join us for a showcase of the best Yarra Valley produce and wine. Embrace the Sojourn style of sampling dishes and small bites to enjoy a broad range of flavours.

Sat 4 Sept, 6.30-10.30pm, $95pp, Sojourn, New Chancery Lane, City. Bookings essential.

MCG & SPORTS MUSEUM

Explore the inner sanctum of the MCG, and visit the award-winning, interactive Australian Sports Museum.

Tue 14 Sept, 10am-12.30pm, $30pp, MGG, East Melbourne.

PAINT THE TOWN RED

Moulin Rouge! The Musical brings the razzle-dazzle of Baz Luhrmann's film to life. Due to popular demand, we have a third box-office package available for Club Members to purchase.

Thu 14 Oct, 5pm-9.45pm, $220pp for stall tickets, two-course dinner and return transfers.

For details about these fabulous Club events, call 9944 8888, email clubevents@racv.com.au or visit racv.com.au/club-whats-on
